So I bought this game and hoped that it would be good.

I played it for 20 minutes and it was fun, tho there are many bugs that make the game really bad.

First bug is the animation of the opponent. It seems that something between 30-50% of the time the opponent hits the ball there is no animation, so you just have to guess when he will hit the ball and how so you can react in-time. The second major bug I think is the amount of power you hit the ball with. I tried various methods and they all seem to be often random. For example:

When I make the serve, I tried to hit the ball with almost no movement and power and on the second try I used so much movement and power that it would look like I wanna punch someone so hard in his face, that he will be knocked out for the next few Hours. In the end the game shot the ball on both methods with the same power, so that the ball would fly meters above the board and the opponent would get a point. So as it seems right now, you have to just hope and pray to rngesus that your serve works, otherwise the only chance of winning is by winning the points when your opponent is making the serves. If they would fix those 2 bugs, then this game would be awesome!. verry fun ping pong game nice gamplay only i hope with a next update they put a singleplayer tournament and multiplayer in it and then you have a verry fun game.

Good game. Defeat opponents of all difficulty levels in one hour. Easy for people who have experience playing real ping pong..

There should some achievements in this game.
